M'KINLEY NIGHT IN KINGS.

BROOKLYN BOROUGH ABLAZE WITH

ENTHUSIASM FOR THE TICKET. Wineteen Simultaneous Ratification Meetings Held in the Assembly Districts-Col. Abraham Graber Describes the Only German Tinge to the Bryan Campaign.

There wasn't a trace of Republican apathy in Brooklyn last night. All over the borough, from Red Hook Point to Newtown Creek and from Columbia Heights to Jamaica Bay, there was an outburst of Republican enthusiasm for McKinley and Roosevelt, Odell and Woodruff, honest money and the American flag. The occasion was a memorable one in the history of the Republican organization in Kings, less than nineteen big separate rallies having been arranged for and successfully carried out on the same night. The gatherings were all on the lines of the Assembly districts, of which there are twenty-one. There was no meeting in the Seventh district, as the plans for it could not be completed in time, and the Thirteenth and Fourteenth districts joined in meeting in the seventh districts, in time, and the Thirtsenth and Fourteenth districts joined in one demonstration. No such extensive plees of campaigning has ever been attempted before by the Republicans on the other side of the river, but the success which everywhere attended it fully justified the experiment.

All along the line the demonstrations were large and enthusiastic and the feelings manifested by the Republican hosts in all directions frequency is going to be in line for McKinley, as it was four years ago. Music and fireworks were enlivening features at each gathering, and all the local and some outside campaign orators were pressed into service for the night, some of them speaking at three or four of the meetings. The candidates nominated for Congress. Senate and Assembly all took advantage of the occasion to come face to face with the Republican voters in their districts and met with hearty receptions. Among the speakers from the outside ware Abraham Gruber, Gen. James R. O'Beirne, Andrew Colvin, Charies S. Dana, M. Jinn Bruce, F. W. Dickinson, William Bruce Mann and J. J. Beallin. The unfuring of big McKinley and Roosevelt campaign banners was one of the features of the meetings.

One of the largest rallies downtown was in and around the clubhouse of the First Assembly district Republicans in Schermerhorn street, near Smith. The building was brilliantly illuminated and decorated with flags and bunting. There was an overflowing audience and frequent cheers for McKinley and Roosevelt. In the absence of Col. Michael J. Dady, the leader of the district, D. H. Halston, presided. Assemblyman John L. Morgan, the first speaker, confined himself to a discussion of Bryan's "Dai amount" issue, which he showed was based on no substantial foundation and only mean to caton votes. In closing he said:

The other speakers were Andrew Colvin, Magistrate Hanry Bristow, candidate for Congress in the Thed district; W. W. Wingate and Henry B. Ketenam, candidate for Congress in the Second district.

At this as well as

Henry R. Ketenam, candidate for Congress in the Second district.

At this as well as at the other gatherings campaign buttons and lithographs of McKinley and Roosevelt were distributed, and, although large supplies of each had been provided, they were not equal to the demand. At the Third district meeting held at Grand Union Hall in Court street, Col. W. C. Plumer of North Dakota was the principal speaker. There were cheers when he declared the three electoral votes of North Dakota would go to McKinley by a majority of over 20.000 and that all the States from the Mississippi to the Pacific would uphold the Administration in its expansion policy and the maintenance of sound money.

The meeting in the Seventeenth district was held in Carson's Hall. Bedford avenue and Fulton street. There was a large and enthusiastic gathering. Capt. James Perry presided. Judge W. F. Kanworthy of Iowa was the principal speaker. He began by saying that the Democratic were recat on theories but poor in putting them into practice.

cipal speaker. He began by saying that the Damocratia were great on theories but poor in putting them into practice.

"We are not confronted by the Democratic party as opponents," he said. "It is Populism masquerading under the decent connections of the Democratic party." I never thought that a prophet of evil would arise and take the Democratic party by the throat as was done in Kansas City. But that is just what Bryan did. He told them that if they didn't adopt the platform of 1896 he wouldn't be the candidate, and they did as he said. Why, he's the only imperialist in this country. Populists must have something to kiok at or they would die. The more hog cholera, the more hig cyclones and the greater calamity the better the Populists are, and when I speak of Populists I refer to the party that is opposing the Republican party this year.

"A friend said to me what's the use of fighting? We killed Bryanism in 1896." Well, I believe in punishment after death and I'm going to give them one more taste of it."

Judge Kenworthy urged every American citizen to use his individual exertion and effort to influence his neighbors to vote against Bryanism not only for his own good but for the good of the country. He said there was no mis-

to influence his neighbors to vote against Bryanism not only for his own good but for the good of the country. He said there was no missivings about the Western States. They knew out West what Bryanism was and they didn't want any of it.

"Who is Bryan?" he asked. "Why, he is the man who arrogates to himself so much. Thirtyeight years ago, when he was in the cradle, he had an awful temper. His nurse handed him everything to quiet him. She gave him a small American flag. When he saw it he went into a spasm and tore it to pieces."

"He is trying to tear it now," said a man in the audience.

"Well, he wont succeed," said Judge Kenworthy. "Then the nurse gave him a new sliver dollar. He wasn't satisfied with that and tried to break it in half by chewing it with his teeth.

"At the same time McKinley was fighting for At the same time McKinley was fighting for his country to preserve the flag that the other fellow was tearing into ribbons. Where is McKinley to-night? He's guiding the Ship of State into the seas of peace [Applause.] He's a great, conscientious and honest statesman, working hard at this time for the interest of all the people. He is not making promises to-night, but he's carrying out the wishes of the people.

to-night, but he's carrying out the wishes of the people.

"Where is Roosevelt? He's out working for the interest of the flag. We love him out West because he is independent and dares to live up to his convictions. He's lassoing the 1 smoorate in Idaho to-night and making them better citizens in spite of themselves.

"Where is Bryan to-night" He's somewhere on the rear platform of a train appealing to the farmers to vote for him again and he is promising them that if they will vote for him this time that he never will run again.

Addresses were also made by M. Linn Bruce. Wallace Bruce, Waldo E. Bullard, and Joseph T. Collins.

In the Williamsburg section all the meetings were largely attended. Ritting's Hall at 24: Floyd street where the Sixth Assembly district meeting was carried on was too small to accommodate the throng. Francis M. Bartow called the assemblage together and Charles T. Dunwell was the chairman. He referred to the prosperous condition of affairs under President McKinley's Administration and declared that wherever he had gone he had found people not desirous of a change in the Federal Government. There were addresses by Charles Falkenragh. George Wibbecan and tharles W. Opp.

There were at least 2,000 persons at the Fifteenth Assembly district meeting in Turn Hall, 5! Meserole street. John J. Bealin representing the State Bureau of Labor Statistics, quoted official figures in support of his statement that since 1897 the workingmen's unions had been an increase of wages in fifty trades, the membership of which is officially reported as 55,328. Among these, he said, are 5,315 bricklayers and masons, 9,650 bricklayers' and masons' helpers, 7,086 carpenters, 10,134 men counceted with the plumbing trade, 5,235 in the metal trades. 1,900 in stoneworkers' industries, and 1,978 in the wool making trade. Mr. Bealin went on with other statistics to show that the working people were greatly benefited under the Republican administration. Republicans of the Eighteenth Assembly district went to the ratification meeting in the big Atlantic Casino, at Raiph avenue and Prospect place, and not only filled all the seats, but almost all the floor space. None of the speakers could find any signs of apathy there, and when Col. Abraham Gruber came in there was nothing but enthusiasm.

Col. Cruber began by saving that the German leaders as Croker, Murphy and McCarren amounted to anything. He said the didn't take any stock in those predictions and he offered to wager that the only German linge to Bryan's campaign would be in evidence the night a

There's nothing mysterious in the issues of this campaign, continued Col. Gruber. The Republican party is for protection to American industries, for an honest dollar, for acholding the flag, and against combinations of chiral which seek to monopolize trade and make fictitious prices. Bryan's platform is against the first three of these and pretends to be against the third.

"Aw give vs. the on the strike "security of the security of the secur

"I'll give you a straight tip," roared the Colonel. "This strike down in Pennsylvania looks very simplicious mighty suspicious—on the eve of election. If these miners had a just cause to strike why didn't they strike six months or a year ago? I'll tell you honestly that this strike very much like the Homestead strike.

Other speakers were Levi W. Naylor, who presided: State Senator Marshall, Henry A. Hanbury and Henry Rowley.

CHAIRMAN DICK SILENCES LENTZ. His Reply to Lentz's Challenge to a Joint

Debate on Cour d'Alene Labor Troubles. COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 22 -At the opening of the Democratic State campaign in this State a week ago Congressman John Jacob Lentz, in discussing the Cour d'Alene mining troubles, made a sensational attack on the national Administration in connection with the imprisonment of miners who would not obey orders to keep the peace. In concluding his tirade against President McKinley, Mr Lentz issued a challenge to Congressman Dick, who is also at the head of the Republican State Committee, to meet him in joint debate on these labor troubles, alleging that the committee of Congress which had investigated the imprisonment of the miners had suppressed the testimony and refused to have it printed, though Mr. Lentzat the same time admitted that he and other members of Congress were in possession of all the testimony.

Gen. Dick replied to Mr. Lentz's challenge this evening. He declines the invitation to meet Mr. Lentz, but goes into an exhaustive discussion of the Cœur d'Alene troubles, quoting extensively from the Congressional Riccard and dwelling at considerable length upon the testimony of the Hon. Frank Steunenberg, the Democratic fovernor of idaho, who called upon the President for troops on the ground that the militia was unable to cope with the situation, and who assumed the entire responsibility of the things complianed of by Mr. Lentz in his speech. In concluding his open letter to Congressman Lentz, Gen. Dick says:

"I certainly supposed the matter was disposed of when your own party associates on the committee refused to Join you in the inflammatory report which you prepared, but vigorously blue penciled your views, thereby declining to concur in your atroctous indictional cantiement. discussion of the Cour d'Alene troubles, quoting nammatory report which you prepared, but vigorously blue penciled your views, thereby declining to concur in your atroctous indictment of honorable officers and gentlemen, based on testimony utterly discredited and unworthy of belief. Not one of your charges was sustained by the evidence, and many of them were proved baseless slanders, for which there was no mitigation or excuse. I thought even you would be convinced that the matter was settled when I noticed your unavailing efforts to force your views on the subject into the Democratic platform adopted at Kansas (ity. It was apparent by that time to every one who chose to be correctly informed that the issues involved in the Cœur d'Alene troubles were between law and order and decency on one side, and crime, anarchy and lawlessness on the other. I regret to note that you were not arrayed on the side of law and order. Your desperate efforts to show that organized labor was involved or interested in the conflict failed signally. Organized labor no more supports or counterpances the reign of terror which so long prevailed in the Cœur d'Alenes than it approved the atroctives of the Modly Magnires in Pennsylvania or of the Mafia in New Orleans. It is a well-known fact that law-abiding citizens of Id h., regardiess of party, were opposed to you in your sympathy for murdarers and incendiaries. If you have not realized these toots, I think you are the only man in the country who has not."

GOVERNED WITHOUT THEIR CONSENT. Descendants of Indian Tribes, With Land

Claims, Seek Recognition by the Courts. Descendants of four Indian tries, the Montacks and Shinnerocks of Long Island, the Narraganseits of Rhode Island and the Mohegans Connecticut appeared at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday before the Senate Sub-Committee on Indian Affairs, the consisting of Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska, and Senator O. H. Platt of Connecticut. The Montank and Shinnecock Indians have a joint claim to 11,000 acres of land at Montauk Point. The Narraganse'ts demand a piece of land eighteen square, haif a mile back from Narragansett Pier. The Mohegans say they should have the reservation four miles from Montville, Conn., and also sixteen acres of land in the city of Norwich. They have been fighting for these claims for years with little success. The courts have held successively that being subjects and not citizens of the

that being subjects and not citizens of the United States they have no standing in court, and that Congress alone can deal with their claims. Congress at last ordered the sub-committee of the Indian Affairs Committee of the Senate to listen to their grievances.

The Indians who represented the four tribes yesterday were the Rev. A. E. Johnson, Nathan J. Cuffe, Dr. W. H. Johnson and James Louis Cuffe, of the Montauk Council John Noka, Donald Sester and Joshua Noka of the Narragansett Council; David Kellis of the Shinnecocks and Lemuel Fielding of the Mobegan Council. These representatives of the four tribes, who are all intelligent men, demand that Congress pass a law compelling the courts to recognize them the same as white men. The Indians have made frequent attempts to obtain possession of the land which they assert is theirs, but in every instance the courts have thrown out their suits. The bearing yesterday was the result of their appeal to the Government for help. Many witnesses were heard and much evidence taken, which will be submitted to the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs, which will report to the next Congress. the next Congress

BRYAN MEN WONT TAKE 9 TO 1. Reported Bet at That Odds in Wall Street Was Not Made.

It turns out that the bet of $1,000 to $500 on McKinley, reported to have been made in Wall Street on Friday between Henry W. Cooper and J. J. Judge, was not made. Both men somehow had the idea that they were taking the McKinley end, and it was not until it came to putting up the stakes that the mistake came out. The erroneous report that the bet had been made established a basis for a few bets of triffing amounts at 2 to 1 on McKinley. The former odds of 214 to 1, however, were the most favorable terms for sum of any size that the holders of Bryan money would grant to McKinley bettors. One small bet of $200 to $90 on McKinley was made in Wall Street yesterday by Mr. Judge, H. A. Seymour taking the Bryan-end. It was reported that Bell & Co. had $10,-000 to bet against $7,500 that the Republicans will carry lilinois.

An inquiry reached Wall Street yesterday from the Hon. P. Divver as to what odds could be obtained from the McKinley men against Bryan money. A rumor also reached Wall Street, coincident with the Divver inquiry that Mr. Croker had on Friday night delivered himself of one of his famous political betting tips, this time that it "was Bryan sure." The last time the Croker tip worked was in the Van Wyck Gubernatorial campaign, when the Tammany braves dropped some very big bunches of money backing Brother Gus.

MOVEMENT OF CURRENCY. $5,000.000 October Interest on Government

Bonds Coming In. For the first time of late the United States Sub-Treasury had a credit balance at the Clearing House yesterday amounting to $109,429. The cause was heavy internal revenue transfers from out-of-town collection districts. Transfers of currency out of town by the Sub-Treasury yesterday amounted to $250,000, of which $150,000 was sent to St. Louis and $100,000 to New Orleans.

While money is now leaving this city in volume, cutting down the cash reserves of the local banks, the Government will on Oct. 1 make some exceedingly heavy disbursements that will tend to replenish the depicted reserves. On that date the quarterly interest of 1 per cent, will become due on the old 4 per cent bonds of 1907, of which, according to the United States Treasurer's report on Aug. 31, there are outstanding a total of $343,922,150. There will also be payable the quarterly interest of $560 for per cent, upon the new 2 per cent, bonds of 1939 of which on Aug. 31 there were outstanding. of 1895 of which on Aug 31 there were out-standing $330.421,650. These interest pay-ments will together call for aggregate disburse-ments of more than $5,000,000, a large propor-tion of which will reach the local banks.

Fort Griswold House Affected. TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 22 - Pierre F. Cook has been appointed temporary receiver for the corporation of Blanchard & Hager, on application of Louis L. Todd, proprietor of the Hotel Vendome, New York city. Blanchard & Hager That's my tip."

When the applause that greeted the Colonel's reply died away another man said, "How about the Philippiness" Col Gruber said that he himself was one of those who thought the treaty with Spain ought not to have been tinks upon. But Bryan, he said, had wanted the treaty and it didn't become Bryan to accuse Mr. McKinley of im-

COOPER'S BLUFF HEARING:

ONE DATE PLEASES ALL OF OYSTER BAY RESIDENTS.

Saturday Pleases Nearly Everybody But Congressman Townsend Scauder, and He In-sists on Monday When He Is Overruled He Calls It "Outrageously Discourteous." There was a hearing in Oyster Bay village yesterday on the application of Walter D. Starr to build a dock at Cooper's Biuff, a sandy head-land at the entrance to Oys'er Bay barbor Starr bought the bluff with the intention of carring it away for its sand value. The residents oppose his plans on the ground that, , they would destroy the picturesqueness of the shore scenery. The Se hasa Corinthian Yacht Club and the Centre Island Improvement Association retained Lawyers W. T. Cox and Alfred Ely to fight Mr. Starr's application for dock privileges, and these two lawyers and about fifty property owners were on hand yesterday to present their side of the case. The members of the Town Board did no appear and Mr. Cox announced that he had received word from Town Clerk James L. Long that the meeting would not take place until Monday, as Congressman Townsend Scudder, counsel for Mr. Starr, could not attend on Saturday. He said that he had at once informed Mr. Long that he could not recognize such a method for adjourning a meeting of the lown Board and had sent a written notice to that effect to each member of the board.

"I received a reply from Justice Simonson of Hicksville," said Mr. Cox to a SUN reporter, stating that he had received no notice of any adjournment as announced by the Town Clerk. In a short time Town Clerk Long, Justice James D. Cocks of Glen Cove, Justice Franklin of Oyster Bay and Justice Reinsen of Jericho appeared and took seats around a long table. They said that they would wait for Supervisor William H. Jones. Everybody waited and the Supervisor did not come. Finally, without any preliminary, such a scalling the board to order, the meeting opened. Mr. Cox got up and said that he appeared for the Sewanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club and others against the petition of Mr. Starr. Town Clerk Long then said that Mr. Scudder had called upon him on Wednesday and requested that the hearing go over until Monday as he could not be present at the time arranged for. He had adjourned the meeting and had notified every one interested, believing that there was time enough for them to receive the notice and prevent their attending yesterday. He said that other adjournments had been made to oblige those opposed to the petition and he did not see but that Mr. Scudder was entitled to an adjournment.

There appeared to be no serious objection to another adjournment on the part of those opposed to the petition, but they made it clear that it must be set for a Saturday. Charles W. Wetmore got up and suggested that the names of those present be taken down and that they state their position for or against the petition. Supervisor did not come. Finally, without any

Justice Cooks offered a motion that the hearing be adjourned until Saturday, Oct. 6.

"You had better name a date to suit both sides," interposed the Town Clerk, at the same time saying he would vote against Cook's motion.
"Can't you get Mr. Scudder on the telephone?"
suggested Justice Franklin, as a sort of peace

"Can't you get Mr. Schider of the telephone's suggested Justice Franklin, as a sort of peace offering.

After further discussion a messenger went out to locate the Congressman on the telephone. In a few minutes he returned and announced in a loud voice: "Mr. Schider states that he cannot attend the hearing if it is adjourned to any Saturday for some time, and urges that Monday be chosen."

Iteturning to the question of taking down the names of those present the bourd decided to do so. Mr. Wetmore expressed himself as opposed to the petition and so did the following, either in person or through a representative: Henry W. De Forrest, Robert De Forrest, John W. Weeks, Charles A. Sherman, Gen. James B. Pearsall, C. T. Young, Samuel D. Shaw, Leonard Jacobs, James Moore, R. W. Gibson, Colgate Hoyt, E. Le Roy Dresser, George Burke and Walter Jennings.

Justice Cocks renewed his motion to adjourn the hearing until 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, Oct. 6, and all voted for it with the exception of Town Clerk Long.

After the meeting the messenger went to a nearby telephone and announced the result to Mr. Scudder Mr. Scudder styled the action of the board as "outrageously discourteous."

Each juryman kneit at the window and sighted toward the tree from which the build was taken which passed through Goebel's body, and a thorough inspection was made.

The jury was taken through the cellar and basement where Youtsey and others ran immediately following the shooting, back to the north side of the building where Howard ran, according to Bowman Gaines, Rate and Lieut fileketts, up to the second and third story of the Executive Building.

Howard was perfectly composed and bore an air of indifference until the historical society rooms in the third story were reached. The jury filed into these rooms followed by Howard At a conspicuous point from the wall hangs a handsome portrait of Goebel. Howard walked up to the portrait before noticing it, and his eyes fell squarely upon the portrait directly in front. Quick as a flash he turned his head and with an air of nervous excitement walked away. The picture had a tragic effect upon the prisoner and, for the first time, he displayed lack of nerve. Those near Howard said he trembled. The evidence is practically sill in, the speeches will be made Monday and a verdict is expected on Monday evening. A long list of witnesses were examined to-day in rebuttal.

-Had Been Dead Several Weeks. Two boys who were walking in the woods near Ocean avenue, Sheepshead Bay, at 6 o'clock last evening found the body of a man hanging from the limb of a tree. They ran to the Parkville police station and a patroiman was sent back to cut the body down. The man had evidently been dead for several weeks. He had hanged himself with three yards of clothesline. His clothes were of good material and his underclothes of silk and cotton mixed. He wore light colored trousers, striped coat and walstcoat, tan colored shoes and blue silk stockings. On a slip of paper found in the pockets was written: "Will send check to-morrow. See that goods are sent at once from Wallabout Market." There was also a crumpled letter, which was signed. "Yours sincerely, May." In it the writer said she would meet "George" on Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The letter was not dated.

OBITUARY.

Col. Joseph H. Wood, Grand Marshal of the Grand Army parade during the recent national encampment in Chicago, died of angina pec-torfs on Friday night. Col. Wood retired an hour before his death, apparently in perfect hour before his death, apparently in perfect health. At 11:30 o'clock his wife noticed he was breathing heavily. She tried to rouse him, but could not. He died in a few minutes. Col. Wood's father and mother died just as he did. For many years he was assistant general manager of the Alton Railread, but left the employ of the company after the Harriman syndicate gained control. At the time of his death he was conducting the J. H. Wood Claim and Adjustment Company. He made a gallant record during the rebellion. He was a nephew of "Fighting Joe" Hooker. He was born in the State of New York in 1832.

Mrs. Carolyn C. Wortendyke, wife of Rynier J. Wortendyke, a lawyer of Jersey City, died suddenly yesterday of heart disease at her home, ios Rantiav avenue. She leaves two children.

They were without money. Mrs. Morrison said she would get some money and left the hotel. When she returned she gave her husband a check for $10 on the Twenty-third Ward Bank, signed James R. Smith. The hotel people cashed the check, taking out $1.50 owing for the room, and giving Mrs. Morrison $8.50 change. Then they sent the check around to the bank, and it was declared to be worthless. Morrison was arrested and is at present in the Tombs.

Last night Policeman Cassidy found the wife wandering about at 118th street and Third avenue. She raved about her husband being in the Tombs and said that it was all her fault, as she had give him the check. She was taken to Harlem Hospital to be treated for hysteria. Dr. Sayre's Funeral This Afternoon The funeral services for Dr. Lewis Albert Sayre will be held this afternoon at 8 o'clock in Grace Church. The Rev. Dr. Huntington will officiate. There are to be no pailbearers. Burial will be at Trinity Cemetery, 152d street.
